PROPRIETORS.....THE HONGKONG HOTEL COMPANY, LIMITED.

THE HONGKONG HOTEL—the most commodious and best appointed Hotel in the Far East, affords unequalled accommodation to travellers and others. It is situated in the centre of the town, opposite the General Post Office and the Hongkong Club, adjacent to Pedder's Wharf
(the principal landing stage of the Colony) and in close proximity to the Banks and Shipping Offices.

THE HOTEL STEAM LAUNCH conveys passengers and baggage to and from all Mail Steamers.
THE TABLE D'HOTE, at separate tables, is supplied with every delicacy, the cuisine being under experienced supervision.

THE BED-ROOMS, with adjoining Bath-rooms, are lofty and well ventilated, open on to spacious Verandahs, are lighted by gas and fitted throughout with electric communications.

The Reading, Writing and Smoking Rooms, Ladies' Dressing Rooms, the new Bar and public BILLIARD ROOMS (Six English and American Tables) are fitted with every convenience.

THE WINES & SPIRITS are selected by an Expert and the BEST BRANDS only are supplied.
HYDRAULIC ASCENDING-ROOMS of the latest and most approved type convey passengers and baggage from the Entrance Hall to each of the five floors above.

NIGHT PORTERS and WATCHMEN are continually on duty.

THE WORLD'S PARLIAMENT OF RELIGIONS.
BEING THE OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE PARLIAMENT OF RELIGIONS, HELD AT CHICAGO FROM SEPTEMBER 11TH TO 27TH, 1893, IN CONNECTION WITH THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Two Volumes Price $1.50

THESE Volumes contain the full history of the movement, from the time of its inception to the close of the Parliament, extending over a period of two years.

All addresses and papers delivered at the Parliament were limited to half-an-hour each; in many cases the most valuable contributions were too long to admit of full reading; these are printed in full in the volumes. A case in point was the Essay of the Confucian Delegates, the Hon. PUNG KWANG-WU, which comprises sixty-five pages in the first volume.

At the first Session the following distinctive faiths were represented; Christianity, embracing the Protestant, Episcopal, Roman Catholic, Greek and Armenian Churches; Buddhism, both Northern and Southern; Jainism, Hinduism, Confucianism, Mohammedanism, Shintoism, Parseeism and Judaism.

This work so completely covers every phase of religious interest that—
NO MINISTER
NO THEOLOGIAN
NO SCHOLAR
NO TEACHER
CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT IT.

tickets while the tolls work of counting is going on, and you will see that it is no exaggeration to say a properly paid servant would not take the stuff as an equivalent for the labour of reckoning it. Never was there such an instance of the fact that the maxim 'try, try again,' may prove a gigantic and all-millennial failure.—"G. T. C." in Pekin Times.

CHESSPLAY FOR SEABOARDS.

The combinations on the European chessboard, says the Sydney Bulletin, are developing startling variations. It is commonplace comment to assert that the latest tariff reciprocity between Germany and Russia is a Bismarckian move intended to isolate France, but there are far deeper significances behind. A counter-move, mysteriously inspired, is an effort at commercial rapprochement between Italy and France. The commonplace observation on that is that the Triple Alliance of Germany, Austria, and Italy seems to be unshakable. But all these matters are part of the great game that is being made at sea-board. Austria, allied with Italy for seaboard and annexed some Adriatic provinces. The Crimean war was, in reality, not a dispute as to churches, but one in which Russia acquiescently desired an always open outlet for her fleets into the Mediterranean. So with the Russo-Turkish war. Germany bought Heligoland from Great Britain in order that the Baltic might be her own sea, but the Baltic is not all sea. Germany desires since it is easily blockaded, even without Heligoland, Germany has acquired a diplomatic sovereignty over Holland, because of the latter's grand seaboard. Some day Holland will be a German State, if the latter be propitious. It was Germany that really put forward Holland's claim to Dutch New Guinea. British statesmen have fallen into the trap of German alliances blindfold. Bismarck was willing. Bismarck was so willing that he entered into friendly rivalry with Bull in the colonizing areas of the world, and the two States have advanced side-by-side and stride-for-stride in Africa. And Germany and Great Britain are the two great rivals for the supremacy of the Pacific. Russia, on the other hand, has bluntly been Great Britain's foe, and endeavoured to gain seaboard somewhere or other by force of arms. Failing the Bosphorus, it wrenched Vladivostok from China. Moving unfalteringly towards Afghanistan, it means to try for an Indian Ocean seaboard. Failing that, it can branch off into the Persian Gulf. Seaboard it will have. If Britain and other European Powers let Russia take Constantinople, the Indian aggressiveness would be abandoned. The friendliness between Germany and Russia may have this chess-ending: "You help me in my designs on Holland, and I'll help you against Constantinople. Let Austria will." Italy's move towards France is a clear case of hedging in view of possible danger. The key to the whole problem is the isolation, not of France, but of Great Britain. Yet it may be that France, of all seeming present probabilities, will once more be the ally of "perfidious Albion." It is Germany that is Great Britain's unsleeping enemy.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A drunkard's throat has no bottom to it. When a man is well, he should be off. To remove pain—Sit down on it before it is dry. Lawyers are seldom poets, but they all write verse. The devil can make anything he needs out of a loafer. There are great many men of no who have no ready cash. The theatrical manager is known by the company he keeps. Whistling doesn't make the locomotive go, it is the silent steam. Mr. Mary Elizabeth Lease glories in his wife's ability and success. It is supposed that a man hurts himself when he falls from grace. The tax of two cents a pack on playing cards is a device of a tax. Never ask a sick man or a shopping woman their opinion of a glove. Some people do not recognise their obligations when they meet them. Anybody can see through people who make spectacles of themselves. A man never knows that a woman has any old clothes until he has married her. The crank refuses to be turned down, but he turns up with alarming regularity. In an autograph book, "Be consistent. Never accept advice. Not even this." The smart things that we might have said, but didn't, have saved us many a friend. Men are like steamboats. A great many of them are laid up, and need overhauling. When a girl goes visiting, she returns home as soon as she has worn all her dresses. Every able-bodied man should be compelled to let at least one good woman support him. The modern government has one advantage—it gives a woman room to laugh in her sleeve. An exception—There is one thing that gets larger the more you contract it. It is debt. The world is sadly in need of an invention that will warn people when they have talked enough. "Their company was full of romance, was it not?" Very. Neither one of them told the other the truth. Motherly. Why don't you try to do right instead of doing wrong? Johnnie—"Cause I can do wrong without trying. Sunday-school Teacher—What is the whole duty of man? Precocious Pupil—Can't tell until the Wilson bill is passed. A man who is deaf in one ear was rejected from a jury the other day because it was argued he couldn't hear both sides. Little Dot—What kind of a kiss is a stage kiss? Little Dick (a close observer)—It's a kiss that doesn't rub the powder off. Your neighbour appears to have failed a good many times. Just twenty-four times. The next will be his silver bankruptcy. The most affectionate family we ever knew was composed of nine different members, and they lived in nine different towns. Not to be beaten: He—A—the worst of you Americans is that you have no "Ladies' Class." She: Yes we have. We call them tramps. "Do you believe man is made of dust, Mr. Snip?" "Not all of them," said the tailor. "Dust always settles, and I know men who do not." The Modern Variety—Sam—You don't mean to say that brutal-looking fellow is a public speaker? Jack—Yes, he's one of our leading puppets. "Have you met that elderly girl that Smith has married?" He says she is a sample of a Virginia beauty. "A sample! I should call her a remnant." Hoax—I hear Hamphat has just received a legacy of a million dollars. Joak—Yes, and that makes him at once the richest and the poorest actor in the profession. Only One Face—He—Do you think I could get a pass on your father's road? She—No; they don't pass anything but dividends on his road. I've heard him say so. Forethought—I wonder what makes Mrs. Longhead so absolutely affectionate to her husband?

band of late?" "Oh, she's talking through a prospective Easter bonnet." Many people travel on their faces, but the Chinaman in America gives his photograph to the collector in order that he may stay.

In a Boarding-house—Smith—Where is the knife with this pie? Lady (loftily)—We never furnish a knife with pie here. Smith (unabashed)—Well, gimme the ax, then. "Rest and change are good for people," said the wife as she rose in the night to rifle her husband's pockets. "I've had a rest, and now I think I'll have some change." "So he praised my singing, did he?" "Yes," he said it was heavenly. "Did he really say that?" "Well, not exactly, but he probably meant that. He said it was heavenly." Upon—Young Gotox complains that his wife has commenced to kick over the traces already. Downer—Humph! That's what comes of marrying a skirt dancer. A Conscientious Nurse—Doctor—Did you give him that opiate I prescribed? Patient Wife—Every two hours, doctor. It was hard work to wake him up to take the medicine, though. A financial paper gives the following advice to beginners in business: When in doubt form a corporation; when sure, go it alone, even if you have to borrow capital from your mother-in-law. Higgins—There comes Biggs. I don't care to meet that fellow. I asked him to lend me $10 one day last spring. Higgins—He ought to have let you have it; he's rich. Higgins—Well, you see, he did. "Ticked? Haven't got none—I travel on me face," said the tough passenger. "I'll have to punch it, then," said the conductor calmly. "Biff! I reckon the company won't kick on my knocking down that fare!" Considerate—Your salary has been $4,200 heretofore, Mr. Penna," said the employer. "Yes," assented the head clerk. "Well, we will just knock two hundred off from now on. That will enable you to escape the income tax." Mamma—Why don't you get rid of the attentions of that persistent Mr. Haverall? Daughter—How, I should like to know? Mamma (dripping)—By resorting to heroic measures, of course. Daughter—But, mamma, I don't want to marry him. The Wisdom of Years—Father—Your income is small and that girl hasn't a penny in her own right. Son—That's true, but she has lots of rich relatives, who are sure to remember her. Father—That's the trouble. They will visit you by the dozen, eat you out of house and home, and outlive you both in the end. Out at the Mid-winter Fair the old Californians take a vast interest in the old coach that "Hank Monk" used to drive. They care a great deal more for the fact that it was his coach than for the fact that it was his. Hank's historic ride in it. Hank (said one of the 'legers to a waiter) "His last words were: 'My feet is off the brake and I can't hold the stage.'" "Mamma," said little May, as she looked for the first time at her new baby sister, "I'm very much obliged to you for offering her to me for a sister, but I've got all the sisters I want, so I'll take her for a cousin."

MAN. What a queer combination of cheek and perversity. Insolence, pride, gab, impudence, vanity, jealousy, hate, scorn, baseness, insanity, Honor, truth, wisdom, virtue, urbanity, Honor, truth, wisdom, virtue, urbanity. Who can fathom the depths of his innate depravity? To-day he's all ray, to-morrow all gravity. For blowing his own horn he has a propensity. Even under clouds of singularity danger. Oh, mythical clay bank called man! THE SEVEN AGES OF WOMAN. At four she wanted bonbons. At eight she wanted gum. At twelve she yearned for novelties. At sixteen, beaux—yum-yum. At eighteen she became engaged. Like many other misses, And wanted money to get a dress. And scores and scores of kisses. At twenty she was married. Well wedding, rich and tony; At twenty-two, alas, alack! She wanted alimony. HER VIEW OF IT. A maiden of uncertain years Beside her cosy fire sat, And spoke her modest hopes and fears In confidence unto her cat. "A man may be a brute, 'tis true, But Robert Burns his business knew— 'A man's a man for a' that.'"

NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Germany runs Government lunch saloons. In Germany vaccination is compulsory on all persons. Storage-battery street cars are successfully running in Paris. The Sunday bicyclist in England have become a vast army. Nearly 1,000 children are born yearly in London workhouses. Cape Colony refused to send a delegate to the British Colonial Conference. Krupp has made over 20,000 guns of large calibre for the armies of Europe. The voyage from Great Britain to India is now made in thirteen days by the steamers. According to the latest census London has a population of 4,317,431 persons. There are forty-five Socialist organizations in England, and the cause is on the increase. St. Peter's Cathedral, in Rome, is to have an elevator, which will run up into the dome. In the preparations for the Czar's journey to Crimea, fifty thousand soldiers were sent to guard the line. Mauritius has been visited with an epidemic of small-pox, while cholera has appeared in various lying in the port. Bicycles used for business purposes are not taxed in France. All others are. Last year 123,276 machines were taxed. In view of the numerous atrocious lynchings there, the London Chronicle thinks the South American States are unfit for self-government. An International Exhibition of Horticulture and fruit culture is to be held in St. Petersburg from September 22nd to November 14th next. The British Consul at Tientsin estimated two years ago that more than $500,000 worth of gold was exported annually from Madagascar to England. The Bavarian Government, with the double purpose of preventing the adulteration of beer and enriching the Treasury, will open extensive distilling saloons in Munich. Negotiations are in hand between the Italian and Swiss Governments to establish telegraphic communication between Milan, Como and Lugano and other towns in Switzerland. During the first three months of this year, 1,005 persons were cremated in France. The French Society for the Propagation of Cremation reports that there were 3,071 incinerations last year. There were in England and Wales last year 4,817 marriages, 41,416 births and 66,093 deaths. The average population of the two countries to the middle of the year was 30,747,000. There were 4,200 deaths from the British Army during 1903, about 100 more than during the previous year. A few over 10,000 men were discharged during last year; 11,500 were discharged in 1902. A rather startling industrial development is reported from Victoria, where women have now been substituted for men at no fewer than 200 railway stations. The result has been a saving of £30,000 per year in salaries. Railway building and railway travelling are greatly increasing in India. Four hundred and eighty-nine miles of new railroads were built during the year ending March 31st, 1903, making the total mileage up to that date 20,395. A new enemy of the vine in France is a gummy worm, or myriapod (Blattella orientalis), which has been observed by M. Fontaine to invade the buds in numbers ranging from five to ten on a bud, forming balls of the size of a small pea. The German Emperor is a genuine wine-grower, as Prince Bismarck is a trader in alcohol and lumber from his properties. The vineyards of William II. are situated in the most renowned localities, like the Rhine, like Hockheim, Erbach and Hatten. An appreciable revival of activity in business in Great Britain is noted by the London Economist. The freight business of forty-three railroads for the first three months of this year shows a gain of 3.2 per cent. over the returns for the corresponding time in 1893. DEAFNESS COMPLETELY CURED! Any person suffering from Deafness, Noise in the Head, etc., may learn of a new simple treatment, which is proving very successful in completely curing cases of all kinds. Full particulars, including many unsolicited testimonials and newspaper press notices, will be sent post free on application. The system is without doubt, the most successful ever brought before the public. Address: Aural Specialist, Albany Buildings, 39, Victoria Street, Westminster, London, S.W.
